But when all is said, why should there be surprise that the senate caused congress to adjourn without provision being made for the payment of pensions or the continuing of the tetivities of the federal courts? Does anybody recall ever having heard of the senate making anybody or anything paramount to what it so proudly refers to as senatorial privileges, but for which the rest of the country has a far different term occasionally?

Two Good Proposed Measures.

There are two bills before the Ohio senate which have strong appeal to us. The first is one offered by Mr. Marshall, of Cuyahoga county, to move the date of holding the primaries from August back to September. The second is a bill by Mr. Herheit, of Franklin county, providing for the permanent registration of the voters of the state.

We can not help but feel that the Maishall bill has merit. If the regular summer primaries are moved back thirty days it can not do other. than provo beneficial to the citizenship of the state generally. As it is, politics consumes tar too much of our time. Why the primaries should be held early in August for the election to be held early in November will be hard for any champion, if there be any, of the present law to explain. Three or four months time, possibly five, is far too much, to give to politics. Were the primary date postponed till September, there would still be sixty days left in which candidates might make their cam paigns. And even thus cut down, the time given to political matters would far exceed sixty days, for the pre-primary campaign runs usually from thirty to sixty days and often longer. In presidential years, of course, it exceeds this time by many months.

thing we should have had universally long years ago. There is nothing to be had from short-time registration in some of the larger cities of the state that can not be had from permanent registration. There is no more reason why there should be annual registration in cities of 500,000 and upwards than in cities of 5,000. There are no safeguards under the annual registration that can not be had under permanent registration. The excessive cost of lost in February, but it takes more than one the former is a strong argument against it, i shallow to make a summer. In this connecbut the strongest is the excessive trouble inon, there's a lot of consolation in the knowland annoyance caused voters. This will total, It is figured, approximately $250,600. It has been explained that the controverry, which has covered a period of two years, has and the Cas company $260 (00, and this will pay there expenses and leave H $10,000 in addition There are said to be be que was communers in I the municipalities interested, and thus the $300,000 collected under bond represents an average expenditure of ere dollars to each con-

Figures have been officed to show that, by the new plan, consumers of 2,000 feet of gas will save fifty-two cents monthly the first two years and forty two cents the succeeding two, that those was burn 2,000 feet will save monthly forty two cents the first two years and twenty-seven cents the next two, and that consumers of 1,000 feel of gas will save thirtytwo cents monthly the first two years and thirteen cents for the two years succeeding

However, few modern homes consume so little gas as this, and in recognition of this fact, figures have been given newspaper leaders showing that on 5,000 feet, figured as the probable minimum for such homes, the saving will be the difference between the present rate with the so-called discount off-$298--and the new rate of $2.75, or twenty-three cents monthly for the first two years. The succeeding two years, of course, the rate to the consumer of 5,000 feet will be two cents higher than the present rate of $2.98.

But in all this figuring on the cost of 5,000 feet of gas to the consumer sight has been lost, apparently, of what he has paid out, under the refunding agreement, during the past two years. The average amount thus paild out has been six dollars, or twenty-five cents a month for two years. Add this quarter to the new rate of $2.75, for the first two years and we have three dollars or two cents more than 5,000 feet of gas now costs, and in this we are not considering what it has cost the various municipalities to fight the case before the public utilities commission or to make proparation therefor.

And there is another matter which appears to have escaped attention. Comparisons thus far have been made between the present rate being paid by the consumer and the new rates agreed upon down in Columbus. But the present rates are not those which were in force when the trouble started. At that time the rate for the first thousand feet was fortyeight cents subject to a discount of three per cont, with a minimum charge for 2,000 feet, or ninety cents Compared with this charge, the Columbus agreement rate is twenty conts bigher. This minimum was held by the Cas people to be too low, and they suggested a service charge of seventy-five conts monthly. This was rejected, whereupon the company put into force the present schedule which provided for a rate of ninety cents for the first 500 feet without the customary discount. Refused a service charge, the Gas people made one camouflaged as a rate.

And now let us study the new agreement rates for the third and fourth years. A little figuring will show a curious result. The cost of 10,000 feet of gas or more will be found to be, under the third and fourth year rate, just fifty-two cents monthly more than it is under the present rate. And it will be Just Afty-two cents more for 20,000, and for 40,000, and for 50,000 feet on up.

From all of which it may be seen that, under another name, the Gas people have socured by the agreement a service charge on consumers of 10,000 teet or more as well as an increased rate on all consumers of 5,000 feet or more, to say nothing of the $300,000 contributed to thom by the consumers during; the past two years. The consumer of less than 5,000 feet a month may call it a victory, but the consumer of 5,000 or more can hardly call it that A few such victories would wreck us

Doctors Dispute Over Iodine.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D. So long as there are doctors there will be differences of opinion about human ills. The body isn't like a watch or an automobile, either of which can be taken apart, carefully studied and put together again. This can not be done with a living man.

Science is progressive and progressing. We know a lot more today than we did a year ago today. We will know more next year than we do now. As the boundaries of knowledge are pushed outward, we may expect to have more useful information than we have at present. Things which me mysterious and dark now will be revenied to us in the future. The disagreements of doctors are good for the human race. When a man's theory is questioned or criticized, he goes to work at once to prove it. The opponent turns his energies toward the destruction of the theory. All of this means that those two men and their assistants are working day and night ou the given problem. Scientists are honest men. They would not be scientists if they were not honest. When one of the contestants in the study of a problem finds he is wrong, he attempts then to go further in developing the original idea than his eistwhile opponent did. In short, out of the differences of doctors comes wider and more useful knowledge. The human

The finished pictures and the theme to be arranged in an attractive way in a small booklet judged the best. Each member of the team owning the winning booklet receives a close until the first of May. Working Hard

All of the students who are eligible to this contest are working hard. The work is done after school hours and two or three pupils can be found working hard every night until 6 o'clock. Two small rooms on the second floor of the school building have been fitted with the necessary aparatus for printling and developing pictures. Since these rooms have no windows they erve the purpose very well. This is the second year that such a contest has been sponsored at Vernon Heights. Thist year great interest was taken in the work and James Rice and Frederick Merchant, sophomores at

If Youth But Knew

BY FLORENZ ZIEGFELD

Theatrical Producer

DO NOT go in for literature but I will try and write simply and frankly a few of the outstandng principles that seem to me rood. for Youth to follow at the outset of the upward climb.

d. He considerate to all with whom you come in contact. 2. Always mind your own business - which should not mean you should withhold the helping hand if you see one is needed. 3. Do not care about other people's opinious. Do your best, fear no criticism, and the rest will take care of itself. 4. Always figure that the best obininable is the cheapest in the end, no matter what the price,

Beauty Rules World 5. Remember that beauty rules

G. Pay no attention to gossip and never believe a thing is true unless you see it to be so yourself. 7. Do not produce for people who are watching you in a critical or flattering spirit. Produce for the public.

It has always seemed to me that, no matter what a man does for a living, he should spend little time examining the work of others in his own line.

The man who is continually trying to find out what the other fellow is doing and how he is doing it, loses the ficulty of orginality and of thinking things out for him-

It is best, for example, for the theatrical producer not to go to other men's shows, for the newspaper columnist not to read too many of other writers' columns. and for the actor not to watch too closely the methods and manners of other players. Think out your own ideas. Boastfulness Futile

A good thing for a young man to keep in mind is the futility of boastfulness. It is a bad baldt and flourishes in large cities where money is always one of the main objects of life. I notice producers who are doing had business always want to print exaggerated accounts of their receipts, as though the financial end of a man's work was all that counted.

Boastfulness is always in bad taste. But it also does damage to a man's character, as any bad habit does when not held in strong check. To the man of sensibility, it is sufficient to BE industrious, or clever, or kind, or successful or noble, without bragging about it. A man's record speaks for itself if his work is good. If he himself is good, his friends speak for him.

He can ufford to "saw wood and say nothing." The greatest of all facility in moreover is intelligent hard work and the greatest satisfaction in life is hard work well and joyously

MUSKRAT SPECIMENS ON DISPLAY AT CENTRAL

Loaned to Junior High School Nature Study Class by Dr. F. A. Stengel

Two maskray specimens from the collection of Dr. F. A. Stengel have heen placed in the case at Central Junior High School, used to display birds and animals which Dr. Stengel is loaning to the school to acquaint the students with many kinds of bird and animal life of Ohio.

The muskrat is one of the most widely distributed and best known of the North American quadrupeds, and is peculiar to this continent. It makes its home in the banks or water of streams, lakes and pands. It takes its name from the musky odor associated with it, which comes from the secretions of a certain gland. The muskrat lives on fruits, roofs, vegetables, and insects, but it is especially fond of apples und often wanders får in search

Although widely distributed the muskrat is seldom seen, as it is largely nocturnal in its habits. The body of ( the muskrat is about 12 inches in length, with a tail of about eight inches. As with other aquatic animals the pelt consists of an undercont of dense, soft fur, and an outer coat of long, brown, shining hairs, which protect the undercoat so that in ordinary

The finest Six Packard ever built Priced lower than any Packard ever sold

CEVEN YEARS ago the Packard Six was announced as America's first fine small car. Its price was then nearly $5,000!

Since then tens of thousands of motorists in every part of the world have bought the Packard Six. Production has doubled and quadrupled. The car has been improved and refined until today we know it is just what the public wants.

In those seven years—and in response to public demand—the Packard Six has been given 10 inches more wheel base, 50 per cent mor power, four wheel brakes, a larger, more beautiful and more comfortable body, instant chassis lubrication from the dash—and innumerable other important improvements.

And yet with the price reduction of March 1st the Packard Six today costs less than half what it cost in 1920!

fine car market. And that market based on the economy and long life of a truly fine, high precision car, has progressively demanded more and more Packard Sixes.

That demand has enabled the Packard factory to offer the finest Six in its 27-year history at a price lower than any Packard was ever priced before.

Our experience of two years ago, when the Packard Six was last reduced in price and when buyers frequently waited months for 'deliveries, leads us to believe that there will be a shortage of Packard Six cars this spring. Prompt action will assure early delivery.

The Packard Six Sedan, the identical car which sold for $2850 prior to March 1st is now but $2435 delivered at your door, freight and tax paid—a reduction of $415. If you wish to buy out of income you pay only $850 on delivery and $125 a month, including interest, insurance ad all other The Packard Six has built a new and enlarged charges. ## Suits Seasoned To Taste

Something Very "Peppy" Or Something Very Sedate

Topcoats follow the same idea here as the suits — the very "collegy" kind and the dressy, quiet effects. You can fit your fancy here in fashion and fabric at

$22.50 to $37.50

That's one of the great advantages of our great variety here. You can get just the liveliest sort of a suit—the sky is the limit in this season's edicts. Or you can choose a very sedate plain blue or plain grey—you'll be right in that selection, too. There are restrictions as to cut and kind, however. The restricted kind aren't here—everything else is. Feature values are the values of life,

THE old adage, "There's no fool ide I an old feel" might have furnished the theme for Ellen Glasgow's new augthern movel, "The Romantic Comedians," published late last year list Inorbleday, Page and Co. "The Romantic Comedians" are an elderly man and a young girl of the teen age, who laugh at the regularity of life, and enter matrimony, the gigl for the purpose of enjoying the luxuries and case the less always crayed and the man with the hope of warding off old go with the presence and assurance of youth, and as the result of an inhorn love of gayety and beauty, smothered during a previous well-ordered and deab married experience. . The theme is not an unasual one and the result is equally trite. The girl falls in love with a young man of her lovu age, while the man, swang from a life of regularity and police into the ever-changing, ever pleasure-hudling life of his young wife, finds himself geing even more rapidly than helore ind regretting his uttempt to govern

The sole el ment of the unusual enters into the story with the introducion of an elderly maiden lady, who had been the old gentleman's first and only love, and from whom he had parted in a quarrel in their youth. When widowed and free to marry the woman who had waited for him so long and who offered him love, companionship, and devotion if not the youthful beauty he conved, he had, in a flight of fancy and with the sad reality that is life, ejected inner beauty for a pretty face. The book is neither powerful, grip-

This Machine Moulds the Most Sanitary and Convenient Butter Print That Marion Has Ever Known

When you buy butter tomorrow from your grocer, msist on GOLDEN SPREAD in the new QUARTER POUND sections. Each pound package will contain four of these convenient prints. There will be no increase in cost.

The butter is cut, wrapped and printed in our plant without being touched by human hands. Our new machinery is the last word in sanitary handling. packed with four quarters in each pound carton.

Should you wish to order merely a quarter pound it is no longer necessary for the grocer to cut up a pound print. Your quarter pound is available in the original package, and it is wrapped at our plant under the most wholesome conditions.

The new form is the most economical for your table.

Color Chief Note

No less no nutbority than Charles F, Smith, local haberdasher, is the source of the atatement that color will be the chief note in men's wear this year. And his showings of what the well dressed men will wear more than bear out bly statement.

Silk ties of heilliant har, in cheeks, stripes and just plain color, will be the rage. Note that it will be silk ties this year. A man wearing a knit tie will be as honelessly old fashioned as walking. The range of color and pattern in these silk ties is greater than ever before.

Another decree of fashion for the men this year is that the how tio is eminently fifting and proper, for the man who can wear one. Bow ties show all the color ingenuity of the other type, and now make up fully one half of tie saley, Smith states,

Handkerchiefs to match the more expensive ties will carry the same brilliant color combinations. Sumply, Hose

For hose men will find some suippy figures, stripes and checks to go with ties and handkerchiefs. The sox manufacturers have been right up with and maybe a fittle ahead of the necktle ninkers in colors. Check patterns and stripes, with the stripes up and down the

Learns New and Damaging Evidence Against Her Has Been Unearthed

New York, Mar. 25 -Mrs. With Smaller, proces some Monde, who, with Henry Judi Gray, cover calesman, is under indictment for litel degree murder for the brutal classic of the womeon's Ancharal, Allion, Sayder, art office of a normanto, broke down completely reday. Heart stimulants were administered to her in her cell in the Oncons. County July. Ther condition was undersided to be serious.

Mrs. Sayder's collapse came after she cas informed that the nathorities had greatised new and damaging evidence; ignitist her and her lover, Grav. According to Police Inspector Coughlin the first nutopsy upon Snyder's body revealed traces of poison. The redice theory is that some kind of slow poison find been administered to the shin act editor for some time before be was beaten to death in his home. last Sunday morning. Prior to her collapse Mrs. Smyder declared that the love she once have for Gray on love kept secret from the world for two years has turned to patricipating in the murder of her hus-

A SAFE PLACE TO BUY

Looks often deceive and it is only by getting right down under the surface of things that the worth of an article can be accuracly measured up. And that is why the meaning of the words "high priced" is often misconstrued.

This store never was and never will be a so-called "high priced place to buy." It sells goods at a modest advance over the actual cost. It sells tried and tested quality. What it does not sell is its good name for giving the customers full value received for every dollar spent!

Quality for quality and price for price, the selling hg ares here stand for the uplift of public confidence and maintainance of permanent trade.

We would rather lose a customer than lose our self respect through "cheap" prices for "cheap" goods.
